WINGS®
NALEDI TRAVEL

INTRODUCING WINGS NALEDI.

WingsNaledi is a South African travel management company with more than two decades of experience meeting the country's most demanding travel requirements.

Established in 2000 as an offshoot of Wings Global Travel, it was created to bring international-standard technology, risk management and service quality to government and public sector clients while retaining a distinctly local presence. Today it is one of South Africa's leading Black-owned travel firms, holding a Level 1 BBBEE status and wholly owned by Black women, reflecting its commitment to empowerment and an inclusive travel industry.

As part of Wings Global Travel, WingsNaledi benefits from a worldwide operating structure, advanced booking platforms and global buying power, yet its focus remains rooted in South Africa's public and corporate sectors. Its mission is to combine cost efficiency, compliance and traveller safety in a seamless service that is transparent, technologically robust and responsive to complex organisations. Our travel experts stand by 24/7 to support clients wherever and whenever needed.

Alongside government and public sector work, WingsNaledi manages travel for universities, research bodies, schools, corporations and energy companies. This wealth of experience makes us experts in managing every need from a simple round trip to complex itineraries and travel to high-risk destinations.

The company also believes in giving back: every year, through the Naledi Development Trust, it awards bursaries to learners studying travel and tourism. For university clients it creates bursaries in its own name, linking the value directly to travel spend. Staff are equally active in social initiatives, including support for the Ekukhanyeni Early Childhood Development Centres.

Through its blend of scale, social responsibility and specialisation, WingsNaledi has become a trusted partner to organisations that need more than a conventional travel agency, delivering strategic travel management built on superb service, social empowerment, accountability and enduring relationships.